Geoknight Digital DK-20S Swing Away Heat Press

The Digital Knight line of Swing away presses represents our most popular line of heat press machines. Because this design Swings completely out of the way of the table, these presses provide complete access to load and unload materials and layout transfers. The heat platen is always face down, and regardless of the height of the product being pressed, it is always pressed evenly. The Digital Combo multipurpose press also falls within this category as well.

GeoKnight's state-of-the-art control system and heavy-duty solid steel welded framework, the DK20S has a lifetime warranty on the heat platen, and an unprecedented 3-year warranty on the heat-control electronics.

The heat platen uses SuperCoil-Microwinding heater technology, a system of embedded heater windings that wind tightly and closely together throughout the entire platen for extremely even heat, fast recovery & fast heat up times.

Design Board

Design board rigid, closed cell, high density urethane foam material has some significant advantages over wood. It can be sandblasted, routed, carved or used in any other typical non-structural wood application. It is not affected by solvents and works well indoors as well as outdoors. Completely waterproof, extremely durable and will not crack, twist, curl or dry rot during long term weather exposure. HDU is easily fabricated with normal wood working tools.
